FOREIGN FACULTY

Prof. Martin Haigh is the Emeritus Professor of Geography, Oxford Brookes University, United Kingdom. Formerly he was (Vice) President of the World Association for Soil and Water Conservation. Prof. Martin Haigh is Co-Founder of the UNESCO recognized "International Association for Headwater Control and Co-organiser of 7 of its international conferences. He is a UK National Teaching Fellow and Senior Fellow of the Higher Education Academy. Martin is currently involved in Technical Research in Landslide Prediction and Control, Environmental Education for a Sustainable Future and Landscape Reconstruction and Hazard Management in Mining and Mountain Regions.

HOST FACULTY AND COURSE COORDINATORS

Prof. M.S. Rawat is a geomorphologist and has been working in the Himalayan region for more than 30 years. His expertise is in the geomorphological and hydrological processes. He has completed some R&D projects sponsored by the DST, CSIR and G.S. Pant Institute of Himalayan Environment & Development, Govt. of India. Presently he is Head of the Department of Geography under School of Sciences, Nagaland University, Lumami.

Prof. G.T. Thong is presently Head of the Department of Geology, Nagaland University, Kohima Campus, Monima. His areas of interest include sedimentology and landforms. He has completed some major research projects funded by the Space Applications Center (ISRO) and Department of Science & Technology, Govt. of India. He was formerly the Dean (Research, Development and Consultancy), Nagaland University.

LOCAL COORDINATOR

Dr. Sarat Chandra Yeniseti is the Director, IGAC and Local Coordinator, GIAN who is a nodal contact for the GIAN activities of Nagaland University. He obtained post doctoral training in Neurogenetics from National Institutes of Health (NIH), USA and University of Regensburg, Germany. Presently he is an Associate Professor in the Department of Zoology. Sarat's lab focuses on Drosophila approaches to understand Parkinson's disease associated neurodegeneration. He is awarded with Department of Biotechnology's prestigious UGCCEL grant.

THE HOST UNIVERSITY/DEPARTMENT

Nagaland University is the 13th Central University of India that was established in 1994. Presently, there are six Schools with thirty seven academic Departments and six Centres of Studies. The University has the Kohima Campus at Monima, Medziphema Campus (School of Agricultural Sciences & Rural Development (SASRD) at Medziphema and Interim Campus (School of Engineering & Technology) at Dimapur. The Headquarters has been functional at Lumami since 2010. Lumami is situated in the heart of Nagaland which is a village in the sub division of Akuluto under Zunheboto district about 20 km away from Mokochung town. Presently, there are fourteen academic Departments and three Centres of Studies. The Department of Geography is located at Nagaland University Headquarters-Lumami. The Department offers a 2 year M.A./M.Sc. Geography course and Ph.D. programme in various sub-disciplines. Presently, there are seven regular Faculties, forty one PG students and more than thirty Research Scholars in the Department. This Department was recognized by DST, Govt. of India and awarded FIST programme under which science and technology facilities were established.

FINAL REGISTRATION

The interested participants are requested to contact Department of Geography for Registration in advance. Final Registration will start at 11 AM on 6th March, 2017 and close at 11 AM on 7th March, 2017 in the Department of Geography, Nagaland University, Lumami. Participants are requested to submit duly filled-in Registration Form along with the Registration Fee by cash and one passport size colour photograph at the spot during Final Registration. Preliminary Registration for this course is already open. Before the Final Registration, interested participants are advised to send their request by e-mail to marckr@rediffmail.com.

INVITATION

The Organizing Committee invites interested persons to participate in the first GIAN Course of Nagaland University approved by the Ministry of Human Resource Development, Govt. of India to be held during March 07-11, 2017 in the Department of Geography, Nagaland University at Lumami. This Course contains lectures, field studies, workshops, group-discussions etc. The foreign faculty will also interact with students, research scholars and faculty of Nagaland University and visit various sites in Kohima and Mokokchung districts in view of future collaborative research between Nagaland University, India and Oxford Brookes University, UK.

GIAN AT A GLANCE

The GIAN programme of the Ministry of Human Resource Development aims at tapping talent pool of scientists and entrepreneurs internationally, to encourage their engagement with institutes of higher education in India so as to augment the country's existing academic resources, accelerate the pace of quality reforms and elevate India's scientific and technological capability to global excellence through 1) gathering the best international experience into our systems of higher education, 2) enabling interaction of students and faculty with best academic and industry experts from all over the world and 3) sharing of their experiences and expertise to motivate people to work on India's problems. The objectives of the GIAN, Nagaland University are to 1) increase the footfalls of reputed international faculty in the Nagaland University, 2) provide opportunity to our faculty to learn and share knowledge and teaching skills in cutting edge areas, 3) provide opportunity to our students to seek knowledge and experience from reputed foreign faculty, 4) create avenues for possible collaborative research with foreign faculty, 5) increase participation and presence of international students in the University and 6) develop new pedagogic methods in emerging topics of national and international interest.

COURSE OVERVIEW

This course is a modest attempt at addressing environmental problems that are intimately related to the framework of geography, geomorphology, geology and others. Landslides and their attendant debris flows are the second biggest killers in mountainous domains (after earthquakes) and occur routinely, year after year, to cause severe damage to life and property. Landslides and debris flows are widespread all over Nagaland, particularly along the highways. Landslide prediction and management is tackled by many branches of the Earth Sciences as well as by the insurance companies and construction industries and those concerned with development and planning at every level of state and local government. Exploring the less predictable 'crowd behaviour' of landslides requires new approaches that share much with the prediction of earthquakes and volcanic eruptions and that involves geostatistics, geoinformatics and geosystems thinking. This course explores the different characteristics of the trigger events that initiate landslide and debris flow activity and the systems processes that determine their size and longevity. It considers the means for the prediction and control of landslide-prone zones, such as new mountain highways. It also considers methods of hazards mitigation and avoidance, including the management of recurrent long-runout landslides and debris flows. Finally, the course will offer 'Participation Certificate' along with 'Statement of Grade' to those participants who will successfully complete the course.

Modules	A : 5 Lectures, field study, tutorials & workshop, assignments- March 07 & 08, 2017 B : 5 Lectures, field study, tutorials & workshop, assignments- March 09 & 10, 2017 C : Workshop, group discussion, final session & examination- March 11, 2017 Number of participants for the course will be limited to fifty.

Invitation as Resource Person

Madam,

It's our pleasure to inform you that Synod College in association with the South Asia Social Science Research Network (SASSRN), is organizing an international seminar on "Human Resource Development in South Asia: Capabilities, Challenges and Prospects" on March 16-17, 2018 here in Shillong, Meghalaya.

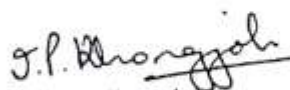

We deeply honour your research contributions in the field and believe that your resourceful deliberation will benefit the participants in the seminar. In connection with this, we cordially invite you to deliver an invited lecture in the above mentioned seminar on any of the sub-themes. I would like to mention further that:

1. No registration fee is required to be paid
2. Your travel expenses between Lumami-Guwahati by train (2AC class)/AC bus through shortest route will be reimbursed by the organisers. Guwahati onward conveyance will be arranged by organisers.
3. Your stay arrangements at guest houses for three nights i.e., 15-17 March, 2018 will be arranged by the organisers.

I request you to kindly convey your consent along with the title of your paper by 12th January 2018.

The concept note has been enclosed for your perusal and necessary action.
Awaiting for your response by January 8, 2018.

Regards

Sub: Announcement of Twelfth IIRS Outreach Programme on "Microwave (SAR) Remote Sensing for Natural Resources" Conducted during from 03 February-29 March, 2014

Dear Sir/Madam,

As you are aware that Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) has a vibrant Earth Observation (EO) Programme of 20 Satellite Missions launched during past 25 years evolved through National Natural Resources Management System (NNRMS), providing mainstream data for natural resources and disaster management both nationally and globally. IIRS being a premier Institute in Capacity Building through training, education and research, has so far conducted 11 Satellite based Outreach Programmes, benefitting more than 10719 participants from around 112 Indian universities/institutions. To promote and expand the scope further, IIRS is happy to announce Twelfth IIRS Outreach Programme on "Microwave (SAR) Remote Sensing for Natural Resources" commencing from 03rd February, 2014" by utilizing Satellite Link/Learning Management System (i.e. Train Net) and A-VIEW in internet environment. This Programme is sponsored by NNRMS, Department of Space, Government of India for Capacity Building.

As part of the programme, lecture/practical demonstrations will be telecasted live from IIRS Studio and are received live at classrooms spread across the country with UGC-CEC/CIET/NCERT National Beam network. The programme is scheduled during 1600hrs-1730hrs and conducted 4/5 days in a week. A copy of the announcement brochure of this course is forwarded herewith for your kind perusal and also for circulation in your university/institute. The course is open to final year under graduate/postgraduate students without any cost and we expect large number of participation from your university/ institute.

In case you need any further information about the programme, please feel free to contact Mr.Shashi Kumar, Course Coordinator, Ph: 0135-2524119, EDUSAT Studio Ph:01352524130, Email: Shashi@iirs.gov.in, edusat@iirs.gov.in or Prof. P.L.N.Raju, Group Head Remote Sensing and Geoinformatics, Ph.:0135-2524123(Off)/09411768991(M), email: raju@iirs.gov.in.
